Havana Market,

Havana Market.

Havana, January 14 — The sogar shipments of the year 1870 closed on the 31st of December last for Havana and Matanzas. The following is a showing of the shipments for the past, as compared with those of the two !revious years: 1870, 1,615,721 boxes, 152,463 hhds; 1389, 1,633 142 boxes, 121,971 hh/1s; 1868, 1,679,832 boxes, 107,734 hhds.

The sogar market during the past week has been very quiet, for the reason that arrivals are are vey light, even for the commencement of a new season; but with pleasant weather, with prospects on the estate-, the stock will be much increased by the last of this month. Quotations remain as advised at the close of the past year. Shipped curing the week hence and from Malanzas 10,087 boxes and 1739 hhds, of which to the United States 8309 hids and 1739 boxes, and balance to Liverpool, Spain and what ports. In other produce there is nothing of interest to be advised; generally duil, without change in prices.

Boston Market.

Boston Market.

BOSTON, January 18.—Coffer.—There has been quite an active movement in coffee, the trade being comparatively bare of stock, and all the Java in first hands, comprising several importations has been sold on py vate terms. In Bio there have been sakes of several lous at Market been sold on private terms.

Cotton.—There has not been much life to the cotton market, the scarcity of watef will restrict ing the consumption. The stock, however, has not secondinary at 18a134c; good ordinary at 18a134c; sow middle gat 15a155c, and midding at 15a15c, and midding at 15a15c, and firm at these dgures, with it is believed that we have touched about the lowest figure. Most of the receipts recently have been on manufacturers' account.

Domestics.—There is affirm feeling for all standard cottons, with an inference of demand from jobbers. The comparatively small production of of goods, on account of the iow state of the water in the mile streams, leads to the belief that the supply will fall short of the demand as soon as the active spring trade sets in, and there is in consequence a buoyant and firm feeling. Woollens remain without improvement, but the market is steady and firm for all desirable styles.

GUNNY BAGGS.—The market is quiet and prices
